THE MINISTRY PUTS ITS FOOT DOWN.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The Cabinet meeting yesterday was protracted for several hours. All the Ministers were present. Although no official information of the result of a Cabinet meeting is ever given, the journals in the confidence of the Government have een instructed to say that the Cabinet have determined to pursue a vigorous foreign policy, and have resolved to insist upon Russia and the other signatories of the Berlin Treaty fulfilling its engagements. This stand, it is believed in Ministerial quarters, will not lead to war, but rather pave the way to permanent peace. In Anti-minis-terial circles, however, the determination of the Cabinet is thought to seriously threaten Dunlin, Oct. 26.—The sudden death of ter to-day.

Cardinal Cullen has given a great shock to the entire Catholic community throughout Ireland. Although his health has been feeble for many months no apprehension of his immediate death had been felt. He was a very assiduous and hard worker, even up to the day of his death. There is not a parish throughout all Ireland where the new of his death has not been received by the people as a personal loss. The apparent austerity of his demeanor had not preventausterity of his demeanor had not prevented him from obtaining a very strong hold on the affections of his people. Speculation is already rife as to his probable successor. The name of the Most Reverend Archbishop of Cashel, Dr. Crooke, is mentioned as one likely to be appointed. The whole city presents the appearance of mourning.

A Son Suffers Fourteen Years for His Father's Crime.

National Associated Press to the Star. HARTFORD, Ct., Oct. 26.—On Saturday night, January 16th, 1864, Henry Caldwell a bounty broker of New Britain, was found murdered and robbed. The murder, which was of the most brutal character, created great excitement at the time. Large rewards were offered, and a vigorous search was made. Suspicion pointed to Charles Gilbert and Henry Deming, both of whom were known to have been with Caldwell on the night of the murder. They were dis-

Charged for lack of evidence.

At his trial he clearly proved an alibi and the jury did not think that he actually did the deed, but knew who did, hence their verdict of murknew who did, hence their verdict of murder in the second degree. Yesterday Gilbert made a statement, in which he says, that owing to the death of his father, which has occurred, he is absolved from silence as to his knowledge of the crime for which he has suffered innocently fourteen years. He then goes on to say that Charles Parsons and his (Gilbert's) father committed the murder, and he kept silent regarding it to save his father from the gallows. He says he charged his father with the crime at the time, which he did not deny, and that subsequently at different times he drew from him all the details of the act. His statement corroborates in every particular ment corroborates in every particular the evidence given at his trial and is gen-erally believed.

BISHOP ROSECRANS.

He Sleeps in Peace Beneath His Altar.

National Associated Press to the Star. Columbus, O., Oct. 26.—Bishop Foley preached an impressive funeral sermon Cathedral yesterday, and Bishop Toebbe, of Cathedral yesterday, and bishop toeboe, of Covington, celebrated High Mass. The Cathedral was packed almost to suffocation at times, and the celebration of High Mass was in consequence delayed a full hour.

The body of the dead Bishop occupied a position directly in front of the sanctuary. The casket, which was an elegant one, was profusely decorated with flowers, and twelve candles burned at the head, three at each entrance to the sanctuary. Twelve misses, with long, white vails, knelt and stood near the left the jail at 11 o'clock, arrived at the

of depositing the remains in the vault be-neath the sanctuary of the Cathedral was proceeded with.

The casket, accompanied by priests and Bishops, was conveyed between the ranks of Catholic Church Societies, out the main entrance and around to the side door or Fifth street leading to the vault, and thence into the vault, which was blessed by Bishop Fitzgerald. There it was deposited directly under his throne on the iospel side of the altar. Father Mear now bestowed the last blessing, the company retird, the vault was closed and sealed, and Bishop Sylvester Horton Rosecrans sleeps his long sleep be-neath the magnificent edifice his energy has done so much toward erecting.

Kate McMahon, of 192 Blecker street, whose right arm is paralyzed, was returning to her home through Fourteenth street. near Sixth avenue, at an early hour this morning, when she was accosted by Charles Swanson, of No. 32 Oliver street, who, she alleges, after asking to see her home, knocked herdown, kicked her a number of times, on the body and head, and stole $4 which she carried in her hand. Charles was averaged and held in default of $3.000 arrested, and held in default of $3,000.

Mr. Seymour on Currency. Politicians are hard at work on the financial question now, and Ex-Gov. Seymour is again out in another letter to-day. He says: I do not believe we can have a good currency which is not redeemable in coin. While a bad currency will harm trade and industry a good currency will help them. industry, a good currency will help them. Still, it is true that it can not of itself make wealth or prosperity. We have enough to sell, and should have more if we could find markets. The question of the day then is, what can we do to sell what we have and what we can produce. The answer to that will solve all our troubles, make labor glad, give comfort to our homes, and life and hope to every form of industry. Mr. Seymour lays the chief stress of his letter on the importance of cheapening transportation be-tween the West and the Atlantic seaboard, and giving our citizens a share in the lucra-tive carrying trade on the ocean by a free trade in ships. He wants free trade in steamships, and says Congress must revise the navigation laws.

MEXICAN RAIDERS.

Two Armies for Their Suppression

National Associated Press to the Star. Washington, Oct. 26.—Some time ago it was reported from the Rio Crande that four or five thousand Maxicans were marching from Monterey for the border. It was also stated that the object of the advance of so large a body of Mexican sol-diers was to oppose the United States troops whenever they crossed into Mexico in pur-suit of thieves. The War Department thought that such was the object of their movement until President Diaz informed this Department that instead of being sent with the intent to interfere with the pun-ishment of raiders, the troops were to co-operate with the United States forces in unting them down.

That such is the case is corroborated by information received at the War Department. It is also learned that Gen. Treviro, Commander of the Mexican troops, is under orders to exterminate, if possible, the Indians, who have been so long engaged in raids into the United States. Another order of General Trevino's is to prevent Mexicans crossing the Rio Grande and stealing cattle and whatever they can lay their hands on.

General Trevino has arrived at Piedras

Negras, where General Ord has gone to pay him a visit. The two Generals will consult
